DR. BARNARD HAS HAD FOR several months the "Perkins Hyatt" or "Celluloid Base," the newest and latest material adapted to the mounting of whole sets o teeth; he is also using "Whalebone-Rubber," which rapidly supplanting, for single dentures or partial set the best vulcanites of the last 25 years.

We cheerfully add Dr. B's card to our columns, convinced that his good taste and judgment, united to natural skill and ingenuity, aided by an extensive practic of upwards of thirty years, render his services more valuable and reliable than those of any other Dentirt on the Sound, Coast or Island.

Dr. B's large experience may be readily seen in the happy and natural expression given his patrons by his life-like insertion of artificial Teeth.

The public may rest assured of patience, gentleness and undivided attention while under the Dr's hands, and that he will ever strive to be foremost in adopting helps and hints touching his own interest and that of his patrons.

Card of Thanks to Dr. Chong.

AFTER BEING TREATED FIVE MONTHS by a white doctor, and spending nearly $300, I was worse than when I first went to him. I had quite despaired of being relieved when I read Dr. Chong's Card in THE COLONIST. I placed myself under his care and in NINE DAYS I was a well man. I write this card to discharge a debt of gratitude I owe to Dr Chong whose charges, I may also say, were reasonable. My complaint was neuralgia. WILLIAM McCORMICK.

Shall we have the Ballot?

This is a question which the Legislature of British Columbia must answer at its next sitting. And it can hardly be doubted that the answer will be an emphatic "Yes." The question was put last session; but the reluctant "No" of the House was obviously less directed against the principle than the unauspicious circumstances under which the answer was demanded. In truth, it was clear that, had the question been asked under favorable circumstances, the answer would have been nearly, if not quite, a unanimous "Yes." The people of British Columbia, for the most part drawn from the more intelligent and self reliant classes in other countries, have no need to be educated up to that standard of enlightened progress which the Ballot may be regarded as representing. They are quite prepared to accept it now, without any of that agitation which has attended its adoption in other countries. It must not be thought that we present the Ballot as the highest and most perfect mode of exercising the political franchise. On the contrary, indeed, a diseased condition of the commonwealth constitutes the chief reason for adopting the Ballot. A monarchical government was given to the Jewish nation, not, we are assured, because it was the best form of administration, but because of the hardness of the people's hearts. And, in like manner, it may be said of the Ballot, that it is not adopted because secret voting is better per se than open voting; but because, in the present state of political morality, secret voting tends to purity and freedom in elections. The parent Empire has made some wonderful strides in political reform during the last decade. Not the least remarkable of these was the adoption of the Ballot. As a matter of course, the Conservatives opposed this innovation, and they predicted all sorts of ill consequences from its use. The nation had not long to wait for a trial. A better field in some respects for the experiment than that presented by the comparatively insignificant little borough of Pontefract could, indeed, have been desired. And yet, if the result is not quite up to the overheated anticipations of the more zealous advocates of the Ballot, it is at least such as must convince the nation that the Conservatives are false prophets, and that the new mode of voting will tend materially to eliminate those corrupt practices which had attained such alarming proportions under the old system. It is true that the Conservative press of Great Britain is no less pronounced against the experiment than the Liberal press is in its favor; but the impartial reader of both will be apt to conclude that the weight of evidence adduced from Pontefract election is decidedly in favor of the Ballot. The chief ground of objection raised is that of abstention. The process of voting is represented by the opponents as being too tedious and complex—too much like waiting at a great railway station for one's baggage; and that, rather than go through the necessary formula, many persons, especially the illiterate and nervous, will abstain from voting. Yet it occurs to us that these are difficulties which will soon disappear as the masses become familiarized with the new system, and awaken to a due realization of the freedom it imparts. But these objections, whatever weight they may have in a densely populated country like England, can scarcely apply with much force in British Columbia. The morbid shyness which is said to have kept away many of the Pontefract electors from the Ballot-box does not threaten to do much harm in this country. The class said to have been deterred from exercising their political franchise there will find no counterpart here. It will be admitted that those conditions which have demanded the introduction of the Ballot in the old country do not exist to a like extent here. But yet, it cannot be denied that, if secret voting tends to purity and freedom in England, it will have a like tendency here. Let British Columbia have whatever of good the Ballot may bring,—more especially as it would not appear to be accompanied by any evils. Give the people of this Province the more liberal franchise adopted last session, but from which the Governor was, for some reason or other, advised to withhold his assent. Add to it the provision for voting by Ballot, and British Columbia will then have a constitution as free and liberal as that of any other well-governed country—as free as could well be desired.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—Scurvy and diseases of the skin—Fever, restless sleep, foul stomach, tainted breath, depression of spirits, always attendant on the worst cases of cutaneous-eruptions, are speedily cured and radically removed by these medicines—the Ointment cleanses the skin, and the Pills purify the blood, stimulate the liver and promote digestion. 25 cents per pot or box. ***

WE wonder what induces David Green the Clothier, of Government street, to advertise, as everyone is aware that he keeps the best fashionable made clothing store north of San Francisco. ***

Newfoundland Mail Service

A correspondent of the St. John, N. B., "Telegraph," writing from St. John's, N. F., specifies the terms of the government of Newfoundland by the Allan Steamship Company. It is provided that steamers of this line shall touch at St. John's monthly, during nine months of the year, both on the outward and homeward trip. The ports on this side of the Atlantic will be Montreal, Portland or Halifax to be substituted when the St. Lawrence is closed; and St. John's, and on the other side Liverpool. The months excluded are January, February and March, but the December boat from England will call at St. John's on her return in January to take passengers for Britain, as usual in that month. The rates of passage are to be £15 and £13 for saloon, and £6 steerage. The contract is to be for five years, and the first steamer to leave England early in October next. The colony is to enjoy the advantages of this arrangement at a very moderate cost—namely £5,400 stg. per annum, or £6000 stg. the round trip, by way of subsidy.

ANECDOTE OF CHARLES MATHEWS.—We are given to understand that the following anecdote of Charles Matthews, the elder, has not hitherto been in print in this country. Mathews and Tattersall were very intimate, and the great comedian was frequently in the habit of accompanying his friend to Newmarket, where, on one occasion, Mathews indulged in his well-known taste for mimicry, at the expense of Tattersall, during a sale of blood stock conducted by the latter. "The first lot, gentlemen," said Mr Tattersall, "is a bay filly by Smolensko," etc. "The first lot, gentlemen," echoed Mr. Matthews, in precisely the same tone of voice, "is a bay filly by Smolensko," etc. The auctioneer looked somewhat annoyed, but proceeded; "What shall we say to begin with?" "What shall we say to begin with?" replied the echo. Still endeavoring to conceal his vexation, Mr. Tattersall inquiringly called out, "One hundred guineas?" "One hundred guineas," echoed Mathews. "Thank you, sir," cried Tattersall, bringing down the hammer, "the filly is yours." Matthews was considerably taken aback by his sudden acquisition of "blood stock," and the company enjoyed the joke immensely.

AUCTION SALES TO-DAY.

J. C. TRACEY.....Government street.....Will sell at 11 o'clock, at salesroom, a variety of Miscellaneous Goods, &c.,&c.

Across the Continent from Fort Garry to the Pacific.

From one of Mr. Fleming's party, who came through with him from Fort Garry, we learn that they experienced delightful weather throughout the entire trip. At Fort Victoria, on the Saskatchewan, on the night of the 25th of August, a severe frost was experienced, but the weather was clear and beautiful. Mr. Grant preached at Fort Victoria morning and evening on the 25th. The party always laid over on Sunday. At this point a great many Indians of the Cree tribe visited the camp. They were very friendly. A most laughable incident occurred here. Mr. Fleming's party were provided with umbrellas. The chiefs asked the loan of the parachutes, and the request being granted, they proceeded deliberately to strip off all their clothing, and then, spreading the umbrellas over their heads, concluded their "talk" with the King George men in a made state. Several other tribes were subsequently met and interviewed. Between Forts Carleton and Victoria two chiefs were entertained at dinner. Mr. Fleming explained to the Indians the object of his visit and they seemed pleased at the prospect of a railroad coming through their territory. They had had a very prosperous hunting season, had laid by any quantity of pemican (dried buffalo) of which they partook freely, but declined to eat of the delicacies offered by their visitors. At Pembina River bituminous coal seams, 8 and 10 feet in thickness, were seen cropping out. With this coal a fire was made and dinner cooked. The McLeod River, which is about ten days' journey from Jasper House, was pronounced by two miners who were in the company to be rich in iron, gold and coal. They prospected it and got such large prospects that they decided to work it and so they left the party at Jasper House and went back to the diggings. The rise in Yellow-Head Pass is scarcely perceptible, the altitude being only 2500 feet. The canon of Canoe River, a tributary of the Thompson River, offers the greatest obstacle to a railway that was met. It is twenty miles long. The route, however, in its general features, is considered entirely practicable and the Pass the best on the Continent.

FROM NANAIMO, ETC.—The steamer Maude, Capt. Holmes, returned from Nanaimo and way ports yesterday. At Nanaimo the bark Powhattan had arrived to take in coal for San Francisco. H. M. S. Boxer was met in Canoe Pass yesterday morning. The Sir James Douglas passed up on Saturday night. Amongst the Maude's passengers were the following: Rev. Mr. Derrick, Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield, Mr. Chas. Good, Theodore and Horace Davie, Mr. Simmons, Mrs. Richards, T. Williams, Mr. Drinkwater, Mr. Chisholm, Mr. and Miss Grabele. Cowichan will hold its Agricultural Show on Wednesday next, and the Harvest Home on the following Wednesday.

SISTER ROCKS.—With commendable energy Mr. Pearse advertises for tenders for removing the Port Sister Rock, near Hope, in Fraser River. The removal of this rock will greatly lessen the dangers of navigation between Hope and Yale. Tenders will be received until noon of the 26th inst., and security will be required for the due performance of the work.

COL. ROBERTSON ROSS, Adjutant General of the Dominion, who left Fort Garry on the 10th August with his two sons —William and John (who are his aids-de-camp) is now due. He was to follow the same path as Mr. Fleming.

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE.—We would again direct the attention of our readers to the valuable Comox property to be offered at public auction by Plummer & Pagden, at their salesrooms in this city on Thursday, the 17th inst. A full description of the property is set forth in the advertisement. The terms are cash.

COAL MINERS WANTED. — Returning Ominecans should remember that steady employment can be obtained at the Vancouver coal mines, where labor is in active request. This information will prove of value to men who may now contemplate leaving the country.

THE SURVEYOR GENERALSHIP.—It is reported that this position has been offered to Mr. Hunter, M.P.P. for Cariboo, who is now in Dominion employ engaged in sounding Seymour Narrows.

NEW GROCERY STORE.—The store of Mr. J. Finlayson, late of the firm of Fell & Finlayson, was opened yesterday with a stock of fresh goods. It is on Government street, directly opposite the end of Bastion street.

AUCTION SALE.—Mr. Tracy will offer a valuable line of goods at auction to-day, commencing at 11 o'clock. The sale is positive.

POLICE COURT.—A sailor was fined £5 yesterday for tearing three blankets belonging to a Maid of the Forest to pieces,

The Provincial Exhibition.

To-morrow is the day of the Provincial Exhibition. Every effort has been made by the Committee to insure success. The Hudson Bay Company have, with their usual public spirit, agreed to convey Mainland exhibitors and their wares on the Enterprise free of charge. Captain Starr, with a liberality worthy of all praise, has volunteered to do the same by the people on the other side; so that a large attendance from the continent may be expected. It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that the public will be admitted on reasonable terms at 1 o'clock. The proposition to wind up the day with a ball at the Alhambra Hall will doubtless meet with a hearty response; the races have been arranged to come off on the following day. One word to this community: If the gentlemen composing the committee have taken the trouble to arrange and carry out the programme; and if the farmers far and near take the trouble to exhibit their wares, surely it is not too much to expect that the people living in Victoria will make it a matter of duty, if they do not esteem it a privilege, to go and see the exhibition. That alone remains to be done in order to make the effort a success.

THE SHOOTING FOR SCOTT'S MEDAL.—A dispatch from New Westminster to Mr. Roscoe announces that Young made 46 and Page 45 points. Victoria's two highest for the same prize were, Butler 54 and J. Wilson 53 points. Butler, therefore, holds the medal for this year, but must win it again next year before holding it for "good."

SOCIAL.—The first Social of the season in connection with Wesley Church will take place (D. V.) this Wednesday evening. Tea will be served at seven o'clock. After tea the Annual Report of the Ladies' Aid Society will be read. Addresses and recitations will be given. The proceedings will be interspersed occasionally by select pieces of music. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

YALE-KOOTENAY ELECTION.—We learn that eight votes were polled at Okanagan, four for Mr. Smith and four for Mr. Dewdney. This is less than half the qualified voters in that Polling Division. In fact every Division heard from has polled less than half its votes.

FOR SKEENA.—The steamer Otter leaves at 7 a. m. to-day for Skeenamouth, calling at Nanaimo and Comox on the way. Among the passengers who go up by her are Messrs. Cunningham, Woodcock and Farron.

POST OFFICE.—We are informed that the brick building, Mr. Lowenberg's office on Government street, is about to be rented as a Post-office pending the erection of the new Federal Buildings.

THE U. S. Sloop-of-war St. Mary's will sail on the 16th inst. for San Francisco.

TELEGRAPHIC.—No telegraphic report came through last evening.

THE bark Rose M. will sail to-day for South America.

THE telegraph lines were down again yesterday.

THE mail steamer is due to-day.

Post Office.

EDITOR COLONIST:—I am credibly informed that the post office is to be removed to the lower end of Government street, near the bridge for the accommodation of the department, when suitable premises are obtainable near the present post office. Why, may I ask, should not the convenience of the public be considered as well as that of their servants?

The Wants of the Interior.

VICTORIA, Oct. 8, 1872.

EDITOR COLONIST:—Allow me to correct an error in my letter of yesterday, for while appearing to talk nonsense, an important question may fail in attracting that due share of public notice which it deserves. I allude to the

NICOLA VALLEY COMMUNICATIONS.

Instead of what appears in yesterday's issue read, "Cattle trails are now wanted in the interior rather than waggon roads skirting lake navigation and navigable rivers. The former are a necessity, the latter a luxury."

I had in mind, while writing the above passage, the questionable stroke of policy of expending $15,000 on the Savona and Okanagon wagon road, while starving the Nicola Valley roads and bridges on $5,000.

In order to justly appreciate the merits of the case it is necessary to remember the following facts, viz., that of the

SAVONA AND OKANAGON WAGON ROAD.

1st. The portion which stretches from Duck's Post-office to Savona's Ferry skirts alongside of the finest inland navigation in the Province, viz., South Forks of the Thompsen, and Kamloops Lake.

2nd. That the remainder of this road, that is, from Duck's Post-office to the head of Okanagon, had already been admirably surveyed and partially constructed by Messrs. Duck & Ingham. To this work which cost them considerably over $1,000, the late Colonial Administration contributed $300. Thus then the present administration had only to refund these two energetic, enterprising and public-spirited settlers, and to widen and finish the road at perhaps an outside estimate of $2,000, in order to connect the Okanagon settlement with the Thompson River navigation.

3rd. That the Nicolas Valley District, although a settlement of rapidly growing importance, had absolutely no communication whatever with the outside world but thro' what nature and the Indian had provided, rendering economy and redistribution of the public funds still more necessary.

Although the petition I mentioned yesterday points to the urgent necessity of the

it by no means disproves the pressing want of

a need of the community less urgent than the former, simply by comparison. The lack of the bridge stints an enterprise—

SHEEP-RAISING ON THE NICOLA,

whose good management reflects great credit on Messrs. Clapperton & Dally. It should be remembered that, with few exceptions, individual success ultimately leads to the public good. Especially is the force of this truths felt in the early days of a settlement, or on the first trial of a venture, where success means more than the wealth; perhaps the very existence of a community. If the gentlemen above alluded to succeed, the country is pronounced good for this class of investment; capital flows in, money circulates, settlers pour in and the district rapidly settles up. If they are unsuccessful people content themselves with less profitable undertakings, or leave in disgust at another failure, and the public see a fruitful source of riches and population suddenly dry up. Messrs. Clapperton & Dally have some 1000 sheep; their market is Lytton, their shearing station is the Nicomen House, on the trunk road. In order to get to these two points, where mutton and wool obtain their marketable value, it is absolutely necessary for them to have this bridge, the current being too swift to cross sheep. The country's export trade wants these fleeces; Lytton requires this meat for food; farming interests generally demand the success of this private venture; and to obtain these important public objects all that is asked is a bridge; and Nicola is denied this boon forsooth because it looks pretty to drive in a buggy from Kamloops to Cache Creek and see the boats sail up the lake,—never mind if it does cost $15,000. Cumulative evidence of the importance of the Nicola Valley settlement and of the imperative necessity of these public works comes to us from the following facts: That from here were drawn last year the chief supplies of consumed in Lytton, and that the average yield of the fertile soil of Nicola in grain was a large return in any country, astonishing in this, and most gratifying to those who realize the importance of the agricultural interests in building up a permanent population and laying the solid foundations of national prosperity. Yours,

WM. H. KAY,
A pioneer settler of the Mainland.

Guarana, a Remedy for Sick Headache.

We (Shropshire News) have much pleasure in directing the attention of our readers to the following article by Dr. Samuel Wilks, M.D., F.R.C.P., Physician to Guy's Hospital, which lately appeared in the "British Medical Journal," in reference to a new French preparation called Guarana, the special properties of which are described in our advertising columns to-day:—

"I wish to draw the attention of the profession to Guarana as a remedy for sick headache, and at the same time to ask for the experience of those who may already have some acquaintance with the drug. My own knowledge of it dates about two years back, when, after the appearance of a lecture of mine upon sick-headache, I received a letter from Mr. Helmcken, of British Columbia, enclosing two powders which he recommended to me with much confidence as able to cure the complaint. He said that, having heard much of the remedy, 'I resolved to try the medicine upon one of my patients who was always coming to me with sick-headache; and sure enough it acted like a charm; and in place of suffering for 20 hours or so, the headache had dissappeared in a couple. This accords with what others have told me. Upon my first headache after the receipt of Mr. Helmcken's letter, I took the powder, but with only doubtful effect. I therefore did no more than casually mention the medicine to my friends, but did not recommend it. A few weeks ago, after the appearance of a second communication of mine in the 'Journal' upon the same complaint, I received a letter from Dr. Wood, of Montreal, in which he also recommended Guarana as a remedy fer headache, and gave a history of his own personal sufferings and the relief which he had obtained. He says: 'By taking one of these powders and remaining quiet when I have felt premonitory symptoms by a beginning of paid always in the right temple (headache on the other side, or in any other part of the head, I never mind). I have carried off the attack; and, with the first box absolutely put it off for two months—something which had never occurred in my life before.' Upon so good an authority, I determined to try the remedy in a more systematic manner, and requested my chemist to procure me a packet of the powders. These I have recommended to several patients and friends; and the result is so encouraging that I have hastened to suggest their trial to my professional brethren. One lady speaks most enthusiastically of their power, as she has now, on two separate occasions, had her headache arrested by their use. The drug has long been known, for mention is made of it in English and French pharmacologies, but appears never to have come into general use. It consists of the seeds of a tree growing in Brazil called Paullinia sorbilis; and these, according to Johnstone, in his 'Chemistry of Common Life' are used as we do cocoa. The seeds are ground into powder, and contain an alkaloid which is said to be identical with that found in tea and coffee. The medicine is manufactured by Grimault and Co., No. 7, Rue de la Feuillade, Paris. The London agents are Messrs. Newbery and Sons, of Newgate Street.

LEAVES VS. THE SUN.—A writer who evidently knows whereof he affirms says: "It is a mistake to imagine that the sun must shine on the bunches of grapes in order to ripen them. Nature intended no such a thing; on the contrary; it is evident that the vines naturally bear their fruit in such a way as to screen it from the sun, and man is most unwise when he rashly interferes with this intention; what is wanted is the full exposure of the leaves to the sun; they will prepare the nutriment of the grape—they will feed and nurse it, and eventually rear it up into succulence and lusciousness."

The Tichborne Claimant.

We have a somewhat new kind of peripatetic agitation going on here, of which the central figure is the famous and fat claimant to the Tichborne baronetcy. This man is to be tried next November on a charge of perjury and forgery, and as the government is to spend something like $200,000 in the prosecution, the claimant's friends appeal to the general public to furnish funds for the defense. Having obtained a good deal of money through advertisements in the newspapers, they then took to holding public meetings in the provincial towns, and now they have transferred the campaign to London itself. This week they have held two great meetings in a music hall in Oxford street, charging prices of admission varying from twenty-five cents to one dollar. I was present at the first meeting, and the room was densely crowded. The huge claimant has still contrived to retain some devoted friends and partisans. Chief among them are Lord Rivers, Mr. Guilford Onslow (a member of Parliament and heir presumptive to an earldom) and Mr. Whalley, the well known no-popery member of Parliament, whose name, I dare say, is well known even across the Atlantic, and I ought to add that Mr. Whalley undertaken, if needs be, to cross the Atlantic and stump the States on behalf of his friend. Now, Whalley is a weak headed, absurd sort of a man, at whose no-popery crotchets the House has never done laughing. But Guilford Onslow is an able and sensible man, a gentleman of undoubted position, and one whom one would think no vulgar Australian butcher and horsethief could possibly pass off as a poor aristocat. Yet Onslow is devoted to the claimant, and speaks at the meetings day after day, stumps England, in fact, on his behalf. Mr. Onslow was a close friend of the mother of Sir Roger Tichborne, who, you will remember, died in the full conviction that the claimant was her son. Well you are tired, of course, of the Tichborne case, and I don't mean to give you any of it. But there was to me, for a long time, something inexplicable about the faith which these men seem to have in the claimant. I have no theory on the matter myself, except this—that the fat claimant, whoever he is or is not, is a gentleman. I say this despite his occasional mistakes in grammor and his misplacing of the fatal letter "He." Mr. Onslow explains this by saying (what every one admits) that the young Tichborne as a boy hardly knew any English, being the son of a French woman and brought up in France; that he "finished his education" in England under the rudest tutelage in Australia, and that thus he got his mispronunciation and his bad grammar. But he certainly has all the ease, the quiet self-possession and the dignified courtesy of a well-bred English gentleman. Despite his mountain of fat there is even a certain grace in his manner. All this, of course, does not prove him to be the rightful heir, buf it would seem to disparage the theory of the other side that he is the Wapping butcher who went out to the Australian bush. He is not an ill-looking man; the photographers given no idea whatever of his expression, for they make him only a heavy, fat faced stupid fellow. This man, whoever he is, has wonderful eyes, somewhat languid and sleepy until their owner grows a little animated, when they gleam with a strange depth in them. His expression is grave and even melancholy. His articulation is defective, and he appears to have some difficulty in breathing; but he addresses his meeting with the most perfect selfpossession, and with that peculiar and imperturbable composure which in England is held to be indispensable to good breeding. His colossal arms are terminated by small and well-shaped hands (one of the witnesses on his behalf deposed that she identified him by his hands, those of Roger Tichborne being like the hands of a fair and plump woman) and he wears the daintiest kid gloves. I saw the claimant for the first time the other day, and I confess that he puzzled me. I had expected to see a vulgar and sinister-looking ruffian, and I saw the sort of person I have tried to describe to you. At all events, I begin to understand how men like Lord Rivers and Mr. Onslow may have been led to believe in him.—Justin McCarthy's Letter to the New York Mail.

WHY ENGLISH FARMERS THRIVE.—Alderman Mechi, well known as a successful English farmer, and one who also keeps his eyes open to the everyday matters of life, in relation to the value of home market says:—"It is precicely because British farmers have their customers—the British manufacturers—almost at their doors, and that the other corn producing countries have not any manufactures, that British Agriculture is rich and thriving."

THEY have a new way of treating the broken legs of horses which ought to be generally known. A valuable horse in Hartford, Con., had his leg broken some time since. The leg was set by an experienced surgeon, and was covered thickly with plaster. When the plaster "set" or hardened, it kept the limb as immovable as if it had been made of iron. Thus treated, a broken leg, it is ascertained, will knit together in a brief time and become as good as ever.

CAUTION AGAINST FRAUD.

The success of this most delicious and unrivalled Condiment having caused certain dealers to apply the name of "Worcestershire Sauce" to their own inferior compounds, the Public is hereby informed that the only way to secure the genuine is to and to see that their names are upon the wrapper, label stopper and bottle.

Some of the foreign markets having been supplied, with a spurious Worcestershire sauce, upon the wrapper and labels of which the name of Lea & Perrins have been forged, L. and P. give notice that they have furnished their correspondents with power of attorney to take instant proceedings against Manufacturers and Vendors of such, or any other imitations by which their right may be infringed.

Ask for LEA & PERRINS' Sauce, and see Name on Wrapper, Label, Bottle and Stopper.
